These days everyone is looking for ways to make extra money. Maybe you've been laid off. Maybe you took a pay cut to keep your job. Maybe you're just tired of working for someone else and having very little to show for it.

It is no secret that the hottest opportunities for generating income these days is to get involved in an internet business. In fact, searching on "internet income opportunities" will bring up 46,600,000 results on any given day on Yahoo.

There is absolutely no question that there is money to be made using the internet. In fact, there are multiple ways to generate internet income. The question is, which methodology works the best and how much do you have to spend before experiencing a return on your investment?

There is no shortage of experts that are willing to sell you their profound secrets on how to make money, online or off.

Sometimes it can be difficult to distinguish the true experts from the novices impersonating the experts. Whether they want twenty dollars or two hundred dollars, you are probably skeptical that you are going to get value for what you pay for.

One solution to deciding on how to spend your money, is to not spend any money at all. There is a multitude of free resources that can provide you with information on how to work at home online. However, money is not the only component of your investment. Your time can be extremely valuable as well. Not all free info products are created equal.

I recommend that if you are interested in a home business opportunity working on the internet, you take some time to read the free ebook "Dotcomology." You can download this book here:
