Continuing Her Passion for Helping Individuals via Her Telecommunications & Career Changing Business Concept

There is an old saying "it is better to give than to receive" and for one New York entrepreneur that phrase has expanded from her professional calling, to her business model that is offering immediate hope to the millions effected by the job market meltdown. "I have always been driven by helping those in need, and now with the rollout of my business concept in a $4 trillion dollar worldwide industry, I can help individuals who desperately need a new career option," said Ms Scott.

Lavaughn Scott is a native of Addisleigh Park, New York with a career background as a Respiratory Care Practitioner. "I specialize in helping patients on life support as well as patients who are experiencing any type of breathing challenges," said Ms Scott, "and I take pride daily on being a support mechanism for individuals who truly are in a situation that reflects a part of life most would rather not have to deal with. But the daily stress of this position on a number of different levels, created internally the desire for change and in my off duty hours I did research on other options and became very intrigued by the world wide growth of the telecommunications industry and with the proper answers to questions, I was able to move forward with my business model (www.whyjoinfdi.com) which offers a wonderful combination of a very lucrative compensation plan geared towards offering clients a lineup of revolutionary telecommunication products that includes the following:

- * TRUE BROADBAND TECHNOLOGY that has never been available in this industry
- * cell to cell phone calls to and from anyone in the world with no roaming, long distance or connection charges or any per minute fees
- * free and unlimited access to video conferences with or without a video phone with capabilities up to 23 individuals simultaneously

- * free VOIP calls on internet connections as slow as dial-up without the need for expensive broadband connections
- * technology to browse the internet from a laptop computer at broadband speeds while talking on the same telephone at zero cents per minute with unlimited data download
- * cell phone technology to allow clients to talk while flying in a commercial airline jet from coast to coast at zero cents per minute with no fear of being in violation of the "NO CELL PHONE" law
- * capability to download 2 hour movies in less than 4 minutes
- * over 100 TV station offerings for clients
- * individual ownership of a Professional grade PBX phone system at either home or office that routes and controls the cost of personal, business, fax, VOIP, audio and video conferencing for less than the cost of a single telephone
- * Up to 95% saving on telecommunication bills with one monthly bill that includes no contracts, credit checks or hidden fees

Lavaughn Scott has expanded her marketing efforts on a worldwide basis and is very anxious to talk with all individuals who are searching for an option that will allow them to take complete control of their destiny. "I have met and know a lot of good folks who are either caught up in the corporate world, of little employer loyalty, or were eliminated from the "landscape" totally in the past few years due to the changing economic times," said Ms Scott, "and being able to introduce them to my easy to duplicate business model with products that are changing the Telecommunications Industry is truly the easiest thing I have done in my adult life. My team members can build up a very lucrative residual income working out of their home office on a worldwide basis thru seven categories of telecommunication products with marketing tools in place which includes a free lead capture page, the best training in the home based employment industry and 24/7 customer support .... great support tied in with great products in an exploding worldwide industry, is the reason my personal mentor gave me a hug and told me I was about to change my life and those that I come into contact with !"
