Low-Rates.com launched a new Travel Services Search product that searches multiple airline and travel agencies.

Low-Rates.com searches over 100+ web sites to find the best available airfares, hotel rooms, Cruises and Car Rentals, vacation packages travel deals that get you close to the action. Best of all, the service is free to all users.

Low-Rates.com consumers can find airfares that best meet their travel needs. This means that fare-sensitive travelers can, with one click, find the best fare between several cities during a range of travel days and nearby airports. They can also search every few hours until a perfect fare is found.

Low-Rates.com travel meta-search engine is a search engine that sends user requests to multiple search engines and/or travel suppliers and aggregates the results into a single list or displays them according to their source or ticket price.

Unlike online travel agencies (OTAs), Low-Rates.com is not an online booking engine. It finds and displays vendors with their prices, all on a single screen. After finding the most suitable travel provider, holiday-goers can access the relevant vendor website with a single click to make a booking.

Low-Rates.com is ideal for travelers that want easy and quick access to the best deals available on the internet. By combining the power of travel meta-search and the convenience of easy event selection, leisure trips have never been easier.
