Identity Check Printers™ is known for its wide variety of personal check design suites that often include matching stationery and other corresponding personal products. Everything from Marvel Comics to Universities to soccer and hockey is available on personal checks and matching bank accessories from Identity Checks. To enhance its offerings, Identity Checks is growing its selection of hockey products by adding thirty debit wallets, one for each currently promoted team.

In August, 2009, through its website, www.identitychecks.com, Identity Checks released a corresponding debit wallet for each NHL check product suite. Each debit wallet features the customer's preferred NHL team logo on the front cover and a protective slot for an ID on the inside cover. Each debit wallet includes four debit registers (enough for 650 transactions), a miniature pen that fits into the wallet, and multiple interior slots for credit cards and other necessary cards and identification.

With so many new products to add to an already large assortment, Identity Checks has something for everyone. Whether you follow the NHL, take pride in your university, or collect classic Marvel comic books, Identity Checks has something for you. Visit the site today and discover your interests.
