

Hazmat Training Comes to Burbank

Released on: November 25, 2009, 12:21 am

Author: Environmental Resource Center

Industry: Environment

November 25, 2009- When workers handle hazardous waste or ship hazardous materials, training is not just a good idea, it's the law. According to the Department of Toxic Substances Control, workers who handle hazardous waste must be trained annually, and the federal DOT requires that workers involved in the shipment of hazardous materials be trained at least every three years.

Environmental Resource Center®, the leading provider of environmental and safety training, will present the mandatory training in Burbank on December 8 – 10 at the Holiday Inn - Burbank Media Center.

Hazardous Waste Management: The Complete Course will be taught on December 8 and 9.

DOT Hazardous Materials Training: The Complete Course will be taught on December 10 at the same location.

Untrained workers are frequently the cause of environmental accidents and penalties. Last year, more than 470 companies were inspected by the DTSC, resulting in almost $1.7 million in penalties for the mismanagement of hazardous waste.²

Registration for the training is available by calling 800-537-2372 or at <http://www.ercweb.com/classes>.

Now in its 28th year, Environmental Resource Center® trains not only thousands of industry personnel every year, the company also trains personnel from most of the state and federal agencies that enforce the regulations.

Notes to Editor:

1 See California Code of Regulations, Title 22 Chapter 12 66262.34(a)(1)(C)(4) and 66265.16

2 A summary of DTSC penalties is available at http://www.dtsc.ca.gov/HazardousWaste/upload/SCD_FinalReport_FY05-06A.pdf

Contact Details: Malia Campbell
Environmental Resource Center®
919-469-1585; Fax: 919-342-0807
mcampbell@ercweb.com
<http://www.ercweb.com>

~~~~~

Press release distributed via EPR Network (<http://express-press-release.net/submit-press-release.php>)