The collection includes a hand crafted Vase which stands at 38cm / 15", which could be used for displaying flowers whilst the 18cm / 7" footed Windsor Bowl is a multi-purpose centre piece. The 25cm / 10" decanter is accompanied by a wooden, brass handled base. All items are packed securely and couriered in a white gift box and sent by courier to ensure prompt and secure delivery. Mark Dugdale, Compton and Woodhouse's CEO expects to see a great surge in demand for the collection in December:

"Working exclusively with a highly regarded manufacturer like Knightsbridge Crystal is a great honour for us and we think our customers will be delighted with the new collection. The Windsor Collection complements and invigorates our existing ranges of crystal ware whilst being unique and special in its own right.
