Quigal, LLC, a leading provider of online attorney search services in Massachusetts, announced today that it will be offering nationwide service. Quigal.com is an attorney search engine that allows users to easily search for and quickly contact top quality legal professionals located in their area. Quigal first launched its initial beta website in Massachusetts in October of last year.

"Quigal.com has continued to grow as expected and we are excited to bring this service to users nationwide," commented Renate Harrison, founder and CEO. "The entire country can now have access to quality attorneys anytime."

Since first launching its site, Quigal.com has been steadily changing the way the public searches for attorneys online. Its attorney search service allows a user to simultaneously contact up to ten distinguished attorneys by geographical location and practice area.

In preparation for launching nationwide, Quigal.com made sure its database infrastructure was ready to handle the challenges of going national. "We took the time we needed to make sure that our national launch would go smoothly and seamlessly, we know our users expect nothing less," explained Harrison .

In conjunction with its national launch, Quigal.com has also announced that it will be running a sweepstakes campaign. More information regarding that campaign can be found by visiting www.Quigal.com.
