Sean O'Neil of Solutions Group Inc., announces the company has created The Decelerator, a brake override safety system, to stop Sudden Unintended Acceleration (SUA). Due to the widespread issues of Sudden Unintended Acceleration, O'Neil has directed the company to make the highest and best use of online marketing and social media to get the word about Solutions Group's new product.

SANTA BARBARA, CA, May 18, 2010 -- Sean O'Neil, CEO of Solutions Group Inc. (PINKSHEETS: SOLU), revealed that the Company has increased public awareness of two of its foremost product lines, the automotive Decelerator to stop SUA, and the iDrive vehicle event onboard recorder, through creating their presence on Facebook and Twitter, while optimizing its search engine presence by engaging Best Online Results of Austin, Texas. The new programs already have resulted in enabling the public to view the Decelerator in action on Comcast in New England by simply entering 888 at their menu options.

Mr. O'Neil stated, "We have to expand our reach out to the public and we are working to do that through traditional marketing channels, but with such a widespread problem we have decided to accelerate the delivery of our message through many new online media marketing channels."

Joshua Geary, Principal of Best Online Results at <http://www.BestOnlineResults.com>, added, "Our main goal is to leverage the Internet, communicate through every available online voice and more effectively increase Solution's reach and engage consumers concerned about sudden unattended acceleration. We are doing that through a comprehensive online strategic marketing approach including video, social media and online press marketing."

Solutions Group Inc. and its iDrive and Decelerator products divisions can be found on Facebook as "SOLUTIONS GROUP," "DECELERATOR" and "IDRIVE - vehicle monitoring system." You are invited to follow Solutions Group Inc. and its products on Twitter under "SOLU805" (Solutions Group), "theDecelerator" and "idriveX1."
